Empowering People with
Security, Stability, and Usability

About SGC

Secured Gold Coin is a gold backed hybrid coin, introduced with an aim to empower people with security, stability, and usability, developed on SGC Blockchain. Secured Gold Coin cryptocurrency is a trademark of Secured Gold Coin Pty Limited, an Australian registered company. SGC coin has been developed with core aim to introduce users with secure, trustworthy, durable, and easily accessible crypto currency.

SGC coins has been linked to the real physical gold stored in the gold bullion and housed in a secured vault under the safe-keeping of Gold Silver Central Pty Limited in Singapore with the gold certificates being updated at the end of every month. SGC Pty Ltd has also collaborated with Lloyd's of London for insurance, where it is applied to all gold bullion and covers the value of gold bullion in the event of theft, damage, or loss starting from 100 million US Dollars.

SGC thus makes the crypto world secure, stable, and usable. The whole process is completely transparent because of SGC blockchain, and the users will be able to have crypto fear of a rapidly declining coin price.

Objectives

First objective is to develop a secure, stable, and usable asset backed hybrid currency, thus digitizing the real-world assets.

Secondly, we aim to supply digital assets that incorporate ease-of-access, transparency, and reliability in digital assets that can be used daily or held long-term.

Finally, it is essential that principals of security, stability, and usability are embedded within the concepts of SGC.

Problems

Being an easy to use and non-transparent means of payment, fiat has always been a favorite entity for criminals and money launderers. Moreover, the bank processes being centralized is vulnerable and hackable. Barclay Bank alone was fined twice for poor handling of financial crime risks and over whistleblowing scandal

Since there advent cryptocurrencies, they have always been unreliable in terms of pricing and volatility. Starting from Bitcoin to Ether and any other cryptocurrency, buying them is like trying the luck out. Being extremely volatile and vulnerable to external stimuli, cryptocurrencies cannot replace the fiat or banking system as they are hoped to.

The world is in need of a stable currency ecosystem that can overcome the present challenges and cope with the constantly advancing technologies.
